I believe there is a saftey issue in increasing the mandatory retirement age for airline pilots from age 60 to 63. Flying is physically hard on physiology as evidenced by debilating and often fatal medical conditions suffered by the pilot group. Why put these facts to a test by mandating pilots to continue flying past the age of 60? The responsibility and risk is too high.